AMC PARTICIPANT
ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND ASSUMPTION OF RISKS & RELEASE AND INDEMNITY AGREEMENT

INTRODUCTION

PLEASE READ THIS ENTIRE TWO-PAGE DOCUMENT (hereafter 'Document') CAREFULLY BEFORE SIGNING. All participants must sign this Document. For participants under 18 yrs. of age (hereafter sometimes 'minor' or 'child'), one or both parent/s or guardian/s (hereafter collectively 'parent/s') must also sign. In consideration of the services of the Appalachian Mountain Club, Inc., a charitable, not-for-profit corporation, organized and existing under the laws of Massachusetts, and its chapters, including all officers, directors, employees, representatives, agents, independent contractors, volunteers (including leaders and co-leaders), members and all other persons or entities associated with it (collectively referred to in this Document as 'AMC'), I (participant and parent/s of a minor participant), acknowledge and agree as follows:

Appalachian Mountain Club contracts with individuals or organizations that are independent contractors (not employees or agents of Appalachian Mountain Club) to conduct some of the activities participants may engage in. Although the Appalachian Mountain Club has made efforts to locate responsible contractors, it does not supervise or control these contractors and is not responsible for their conduct. Participant (and parent/s) acknowledge that they may independently investigate and assess these organizations and activities, if they choose to do so. Further, Appalachian Mountain Club uses volunteers to assist with, and sometimes lead activities, workshops or programs. These individuals are not paid professional guides or leaders. In all activities, all participants share in the responsibility for their own safety and the safety of the group.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT & ASSUMPTION OF RISKS

AMC instructional, educational and/or adventure activities (which may be scheduled or unscheduled, supervised or unsupervised and/or occur during free time) include, but are not limited to hiking, backpacking, camping, biking, skiing, snowboarding, snowshoeing, high and low ropes courses, trail work, maintenance of facilities, mountaineering, rock and ice climbing, canoeing, kayaking, sailing, swimming, environmental education, wilderness emergency medical training, first aid and rescue, participation in volunteer service projects, use of AMC huts or other facilities and transportation or travel to and from activities (referred to in this Document as 'activities' or 'these activities'). These activities include inherent and other risks, hazards and dangers (referred to in this Document as 'risks') that can cause or lead to injury, damage, death or other loss to participant or others. The following includes some, but not all of those risks:

Risks present in an outdoor, mountainous or wilderness environment on land or water, both on and off trail. Travel can be subject to storms, strong winds, avalanches, currents, waves, whitewater, lightning, rapidly moving rivers or other water bodies, difficult stream crossings, snow or ice, extremely hot, humid or cold weather or water, steep terrain, falling rock, stinging or disease carrying animals or insects, wild animals and other natural or human-made hazards and dangers. Hazards may not be marked and weather is unpredictable year-round.

Risks in decision making, including, without limitation, the risk that an AMC staff member, volunteer, representative, co-participant or contractor may misjudge a participant's capabilities, health or fitness level, or misjudge some aspect of instruction, medical treatment, weather, terrain, water level, or route location.

Personal health and participation risks. The risk that a participant's mental, physical or emotional condition (disclosed or undisclosed, known or unknown) combined with participation in these activities could result in injury, damage, death or other loss.

The risk that equipment used in an activity may be misused, or may break, fail or malfunction.

AMC activities may take place in remote places, several hours or days from any medical facility, causing potential delays or difficulties with communication, transportation, evacuation and medical care.

Risks connected with meals and/or cooking and camping chores. Meals may include exposure to food allergens. Risks also include gas explosion, scalding or other burns associated with cooking over a gas stove or open fire, and water contamination from natural water sources. All water may be contaminated and should be disinfected, filtered or boiled before use.

Risks associated with AMC facilities and premises, including boulders, ruts, slippery walkways, ponds or other water sources, uneven ground or other conditions.

Risks associated with transportation. Travel can be on foot or by vehicle, bicycle, boat or other means and can be over rough and unpredictable terrain or via oceans or rivers, with wind, rain, or other adverse weather conditions.

Volunteer community service. Risks associated with activities such as (but not limited to) building, digging and trail maintenance, painting, construction and clean-up projects. Projects can include the use of tools and equipment (i.e. drills, saws, power tools) that can cause injury resulting from use, misuse or malfunction.

Risks regarding conduct, including the potential that the participant, or other participants or third parties (e.g. general public, rescue squad, medical facility) may act carelessly or recklessly.

Participants may have limited, unsupervised time during, before or after the start of an AMC program. This may include periods of free time, or periods of time alone while engaged in backcountry travel. During both supervised and unsupervised activities, all participants share in the responsibility for their own safety and the safety of the group.

Other risks that are generally associated with instructional, educational and/or adventure activities.

These and other risks may result in participants falling, being struck, colliding with objects or people, experiencing vehicle or boat collision or capsizing, drowning, reacting to weather conditions or increased exertion, suffering gastro-intestinal complications or allergic reactions, becoming lost or disoriented, or experiencing other problems. These and other circumstances may cause hyperthermia, hypothermia, frostbite, dehydration, burns, heart or lung complications, broken bones, concussions, paralysis, mental or emotional trauma, or other injury, damage, death or loss.

5/11/06 RMT

I (participant and parent/s of a minor participant) agree:

- To accurately complete all required forms (which may include, but is not limited to the AMC application, registration and medical forms), abide by the terms of those documents, and obey all AMC rules, regulations and policies;
- If participant has any mental, physical or emotional conditions or limitations that might affect his/her ability to participate I agree to disclose those to AMC, and represent that participant is fully capable of participating without causing harm to him/herself or others;
- AMC representatives are, and have been available, should I have further questions about these activities and the associated risks;
- AMC staff, leaders or other personnel cannot assure participant's safety or eliminate any of these risks.

Participant is voluntarily participating with knowledge of the risks. Therefore, participant (and parent/s of minors) assume and accept full responsibility for the inherent and other risks (both known and unknown) of these activities, and for any injury, damage, death or other loss suffered by participant (and parent/s of minors), resulting from those risks and/or resulting from participant's negligence or other misconduct.

RELEASE AND INDEMNITY AGREEMENT

Please read carefully. This Release and Indemnity agreement contains a surrender of certain legal rights. I (adult participant, or parent/s for themselves and for and on behalf of their participating minor child) agree as follows:

- (1) to release and agree not to sue AMC, with respect to any and all claims, liabilities, suits or expenses (including attorneys' fees and costs) (hereafter collectively 'claim' or 'claim/s') for any injury, damage, death or other loss in any way connected with my/my child's enrollment or participation in these activities, or use of AMC equipment, facilities or premises. I understand I agree here to waive all claim/s I or my child may have against AMC, and agree that neither I, my child, or anyone acting on my or my child's behalf, will make a claim against AMC, as a result of any injury, damage, death or other loss suffered by me or my child;
- (2) to defend and indemnify ('indemnify' meaning protect by reimbursement or payment) AMC with respect to any and all claim/s brought by or on behalf of me, my child or a family member for any injury, damage, death or other loss in any way connected with my/my child's enrollment or participation in these activities or use of AMC equipment, facilities or premises.

CONCLUSION

I (participant and parent/s of a minor participant) agree that the substantive laws of Massachusetts govern this Document, any dispute I have with AMC and all other aspects of my relationship with AMC, and that any mediation, suit, or other proceeding must be filed or entered into only in Massachusetts.

AMC reserves the right to remove any participant from the program who staff or leaders believe, in their discretion, presents a safety concern or medical risk, is disruptive, or acts in any manner detrimental to the program. THE YOUTH OPPORTUNITIES PROGRAM

Welcome! Thanks for inquiring about the Youth Opportunities Program (YOP)! We are delighted that you are interested in attending an Outdoor Leadership Training (OLT). This packet provides specific information about YOP and our signature training, the OLT. Please read this information carefully and give us a call with any questions. This application is also available online at www.outdoors.org/yop/apply. Once you are ready to register, fill out the enclosed forms and send them in along with payment. Please note that the OLTs fill very quickly so we recommend applying as soon as possible. Once we have reviewed your application we will contact you to confirm your registration. Shortly before the start of the training we will provide a final information packet with directions and a few reminders.

OVERVIEW

The AMC's Youth Opportunities Program provides training and support for youth workers to independently lead groups into the outdoors. By training and supporting youth workers, YOP ensures that young people enjoy meaningful outdoor experiences with adults who know them and their unique needs. YOP promotes youth leadership, confidence, and environmental awareness through participation in outdoor adventures such as backpacking, hiking, and canoeing. Because participation in these types of outdoor activities has traditionally been limited to those with greater financial resources, YOP targets youth agencies serving underserved youth. YOP is committed to making the outdoors accessible to youth who would not ordinarily have these opportunities or feel comfortable in the backcountry without the support of YOP and YOP-trained youth workers. By providing scholarships, free equipment, and discounted lodging, YOP makes it possible for diverse groups of young people to access these wonderful outdoor experiences. YOP is committed to providing the support that youth workers need to make outdoor trips a reality! Each year we work with more than 200 youth agencies and serve over 6,000 youth – and we look forward to working with you.

OUR HISTORY

The Youth Opportunities Program began in 1968 during a time when Boston was experiencing racial conflict and rapid social change. The Appalachian Mountain Club (AMC) became increasingly concerned about how these tensions were affecting inner-city teenagers. As a way of reaching out to them, AMC created the Youth Opportunities Program (YOP). The idea was simple: provide urban youth with hiking and camping trips in wilderness areas and give them a unique opportunity to develop leadership skills and self-confidence. The trips would not be run by AMC leaders but by their youth workers. AMC would provide equipment and training so that youth workers could lead trips according to the needs of their youth.

The first outing consisted of a small group of youth from Roxbury. They ventured into the White Mountains during the summer of 1968 and returned home with exciting stories and talk of going back. Two more Roxbury groups took to the mountains that summer... soon to be followed in summers to come by teens from Dorchester, Mattapan, downtown Boston and Cambridge.

“I was surprised at how extensive, well-organized, and well thought out every aspect of the training was and how incredibly generous YOP has been.”

- OLT participant

Since its grassroots beginning in 1968, YOP has grown and changed – all in an effort to give the youth and youth workers of the Northeast a successful outdoor program. Today YOP is well-rooted in the community. Our growth can be seen in more workshops, more equipment, higher-quality training sessions for leaders, a greater pool of participating agencies and, of course, the fact that each year more and more youth discover the outdoors.

YOP is celebrating its 40th year of education, leadership and adventure. We are a year-round program with trainings in backpacking, camping, snowshoeing, cross-country skiing, trip planning, map and compass, wilderness first aid, Leave No Trace ethics, and canoeing. Our program has successfully trained more than 2,500 Boston-area youth workers – professionals who have in turn brought the outdoors to more than 62,000 urban youth. And the numbers continue to grow. As more and more youth workers complete our Outdoor Leadership Training and join the ranks of active YOP leaders, we are able to reach more and more youth.

It's exciting to think about this multiplying effect, but what makes it all possible is very basic and very essential: good leaders and good leadership training. We are always on the lookout for new youth workers with a zest for life and a passion for the outdoors. Some come to us with considerable backpacking or camping experience, which is great. Many others have no outdoor experience, but a lot of interest, and that's terrific too! All we ask is that participants be 21 years of age or older, have an open mind, are actively involved with youth, are committed to leading two or more outdoor trips within a year, and are willing to learn.

Together with youth workers, YOP is giving the youth the opportunity to... gaze out from a summit and sense the powerful beauty of nature; to work with a group to set up camp and learn the importance of teamwork; to challenge themselves mentally and physically during a wilderness hike and to finally shed their packs, sit back and feel the pride and satisfaction of achieving a goal through hard work. YOP is an opportunity for youth to return to the city not only with a new experience, but also with a new perspective, a new curiosity and appreciation for the outdoors, and most importantly, new leadership abilities and a heightened sense of self-esteem. We look forward to working with you to make this happen!

RESOURCES

Leaders who have successfully completed the OLT are eligible to borrow outdoor gear from YOP's equipment room in Boston. This includes tents, sleeping bags, stoves, fuel bottles, backpacks, daypacks, hiking boots, warm clothing, rain gear and water bottles. Once leaders complete the OLT they have the option of continuing their outdoor education. YOP offers workshops in snowshoeing, cross-country skiing, Wilderness First Aid, map and compass reading, canoeing, trip planning, and advanced backpacking. Those who have completed other specialized workshops in addition to the OLT may then borrow applicable equipment such as canoes, paddles, lifejackets, cross-country skis, ski poles, winter boots, winter sleeping bags, and snowshoes. The courses last anywhere from a day to a weekend and can be taken for a nominal fee. They are an excellent way for leaders to enhance their training or refine their skills.

YOP helps leaders find the information they need to plan their trips. A free Trip Planning Workshop is offered after the OLT to help YOP leaders plan their first trip and the YOP Coordinator is always available to answer questions, assist leaders in planning their trips, make equipment reservations, and make reservations at AMC's lodging facilities. YOP Leaders are eligible for highly reduced rates at AMC huts, camps, and lodges through our Kids-in-Huts initiative, making it affordable to bring youth to visit stunning locations across Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and New Jersey.

GETTING INVOLVED: PARTNERSHIPS & POLICIES

YOP is always excited about working with new youth workers and organizations that are committed to bringing positive experiences to kids. Sending a youth worker on the OLT is the first step for a youth agency to get involved and to begin receiving the many support services YOP provides. We believe that by working together we can achieve our goal to provide thousands of youth with powerful outdoor experiences. Our strongest results are achieved by the partnerships we form which combine the complementary resources that youth workers and YOP have to offer. In order to provide the best possible results and make the most of our resources, we have developed the following guidelines for participation in the OLT and YOP. Please review these carefully and call with any questions.

1. Age: Youth workers must be 21 years or older in order to participate.
2. Two Trip Minimum: OLT participants are expected to lead a minimum of two trips within a year of taking the training, though many will go on to lead more. This can include day hikes, backpacking, camping, and other outdoor activities. These trips will naturally be based on the skills, interests, and schedules of each individual YOP Leader. We understand that challenges occasionally arise that may make this commitment difficult to achieve but we ask that all participants attend the training with the intention to lead these two trips.
3. Youth Agencies: Youth agencies may send up to four youth workers to each training. This ensures that we are able to serve as many groups as possible. Colleagues and other people that know each other are typically placed in separate training groups so that everyone can make the most of the experience.
4. YOP's Role: The OLT teaches a wide range of skills needed to lead youth on outdoor trips but is not a certification process. YOP's role in the partnership with a youth agency is to provide the support and resources needed to make outdoor trips possible. YOP is always pleased to provide suggestions and trip ideas prior to any trip. However, YOP staff do not typically go on these trips and youth workers and their agencies assume full responsibility and ownership for all their trips

5. Leader Profiles: At the conclusion of the OLT, participants will take part in an evaluation process with their instructors that will determine the types of trips they may lead with YOP support services. These trips range from local day hikes to multi-day backpacking expeditions and are based on the skills and experience level of each participant. Participation in other YOP workshops and additional trip leading experience allow youth workers to lead more advanced trips, and we encourage all YOP Leaders to continue to build their skills by attending these ongoing trainings.
6. Equipment Loans: The type of equipment that YOP Leaders may borrow is based on the Leader Profile determined by YOP at the conclusion of the OLT. All YOP Leaders are eligible to change their Leader Profile through additional YOP workshops.
7. Trip Seasons: The OLT allows youth workers to lead “three season” trips – outings that take place in the spring, summer, or fall. (This is typically mid-May to mid-October in New Hampshire.) Youth workers interested in leading winter trips must attend a winter training in order to borrow winter equipment or stay at an AMC facility during this season.
8. Youth Workers: OLT applicants who can demonstrate that they are affiliated with a youth agency that supports their involvement with YOP will receive preference in the application process.
9. Scholarships: To avoid turning away youth workers and youth agencies with limited resources, YOP provides some scholarships. Be sure to request an application if needed.
10. YOP Membership: All the benefits of YOP membership continue for two years after the successful completion of the Outdoor Leadership Training. After two years YOP Leaders must participate in a qualifying “refresher workshop” in order to renew their membership and continue receiving YOP benefits such as free equipment loans and reduced rates at AMC destinations.

THE OUTDOOR LEADERSHIP TRAINING

OUR SIGNATURE TRAINING

OVERVIEW

Many people tell us that the Outdoor Leadership Training (OLT) was a life-changing experience. Whether it helped them overcome a fear, put a new perspective on life, or just meet some great new people, the reality of the OLT is like nothing you've ever experienced before.

YOP offers four Outdoor Leadership Trainings (OLT) each year out of Boston: two backpacking OLTs and two camping OLTs. All trainings consist of a pre-trip meeting in Boston and several days of outdoor adventure in New Hampshire. Youth workers are eligible to participate in any of the four OLTs and are encouraged to select the training that best meets their needs. (YOP also conducts four OLTs in New Jersey – contact us for more information if this location is more convenient.)

The purpose of the OLT is to teach basic outdoor and leadership skills. These skills are all taught in the context of taking kids into the outdoors, a specialized type of trip leadership with unique challenges and rewards. The training is experiential which means that you'll learn by doing: you'll learn from your triumphs as well as from your challenges.

The mandatory pre-trip meeting will give you an understanding of the training and what to expect. It also allows us to be sure that you are well prepared and includes some informational workshops. You will have a chance to get familiar with the equipment, learn about and look over map and guidebook materials, receive the YOP Outdoor Leadership Training Manual for advance reading, sign-up for your free AMC membership, get equipment checked and issued, and meet instructors as well as other participants.

“The OLT is one of the best and most helpful trainings I have ever been involved with.”
- OLT participant

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN

The OLT covers four fundamental areas of outdoor leadership: technical skills, group dynamics, methods of leadership, and environmental awareness. The technical skills training includes lessons on map and compass reading, equipment usage, discussions about wilderness first aid, and safety procedures. It gives leaders the basic tools to lead an outdoor trip effectively and smoothly. We teach the importance of positive group dynamics through role-plays, new games, and discussions. Kids who are new to the outdoors will often behave differently when they're placed in the wilderness so we try to prepare leaders for the likely tensions and interactions of their groups. We also take an in-depth look at the various methods and styles of effective leadership. Being a good leader means being an educator, an advisor, a motivator, a problem-solver and a decision-maker. Again, through role-playing and discussions, we help leaders balance these varying roles and find a style that works best for them. The final area, environmental awareness, is emphasized by lessons on ecology and low-impact camping. The best way to lead is by setting a good example: so, whether this means properly disposing of waste or starting a campfire, leaders must show concern for the environment - and teach youth how to be good stewards of the earth. Trip leaders with knowledge and skill in all four areas will be prepared to lead a variety of trips, from day hikes to camping to backpacking.

WHAT TO EXPECT – BACKPACKING OLT

The training goes something like this . . . We'll meet at AMC in Boston at 7:00 AM on Wednesday morning. We'll drive to Cardigan Lodge, an AMC facility in New Hampshire's Lake Region, about a 2 ½ hour ride, where you'll spend the first night sleeping in the campground. Cardigan has toilets, showers, a lodge for meetings and meals, and beautiful scenery. That first day will be spent in mini-workshops learning about stove usage, setting up tarps, and backcountry nutrition. That evening everyone will break off into groups. Each group will consist of 7-8 participants and 2 instructors. Thursday morning, after breakfast, the groups will all hit the trails in their separate directions, not to reunite until the end of the training.

The days in the backcountry are long and strenuous. You can expect to be carrying at least 35 pounds in your backpack, hiking 5-7 miles per day over fairly rigorous terrain, getting up early and going to bed late. A typical day is breakfast at 7:00 AM, hike until 6:00 PM (or until you get where you're going), set up camp, cook, and process the day until 11:00 PM. There are steep uphill and steep downhill. There are also amazing views, beautiful waterfalls, and interesting wildlife!

While you don't have to be a marathoner, you should prepare yourself mentally and physically. The hiking is tough and the skills challenging. Expect dirty fingernails, 6-10 hours of hiking per day, muddy feet, bug bites, and sore muscles. Start working out now - you wouldn't believe how much it can help! Walking, running and bicycling are great activities to prepare for backpacking in the mountains.

WHAT TO EXPECT – CAMPING OLT

The training goes something like this . . . We'll meet at AMC in Boston at 8:00 AM on Thursday morning. We'll load up the van and drive to Cardigan Lodge, an AMC facility in New Hampshire's Lake Region, about a 2 ½ hour ride. Once there we will do some introductory activities and spend the night sleeping in the lodge. Cardigan has toilets, showers, rustic bunkrooms, a lodge, and beautiful scenery. The next day will feature activities such as setting up camp, mini-workshops, team building initiatives, and a short hike. Saturday will include a hike to the summit of Mount Cardigan, more workshops, group discussions, and practice scenarios. The final day focuses on trip planning, assessment, and celebration.

Expect the days to be long and some of the hiking fairly strenuous. You will carry about 20 pounds in your backpack, hike up to 6 miles per day over fairly rigorous terrain, get up early and go to bed late. A typical day might begin at 7 AM and end at 11 PM with meals, activities, hiking, and group discussions mixed in throughout the day. The hiking will vary greatly. Expect steep uphill and steep downhill, some relatively moderate terrain, and maybe even a gentle stroll. Also expect amazing views, beautiful waterfalls, and interesting wildlife!

You don't have to be a marathoner but you should prepare yourself mentally and physically. You'll find some of the hiking to be challenging. Expect to have dirty fingernails, up to 8 hours of hiking per day, muddy feet, bug bites, and sore muscles. We recommend that you start exercising now – you wouldn't believe how much it can help! Walking, running and bicycling are great activities to prepare for hiking.

By the end of this training you will be very familiar with the Cardigan Mountain area, including the trails, activities, unique places of interest, campground, and lodge. This will leave you well prepared to return to enjoy this and other outdoor destinations with your youth!

LEADERSHIP

Each participant will get a chance to be the co-leader of her/his group for a time. Except for the basic itinerary and in emergency situations, decisions will be made by those leaders and the group. Leaders of the group will be responsible for reviewing the route with the rest of the group, checking to make sure all needed equipment is included, coordinating group members and dealing with issues that arise.

Along the way there will be role-play scenarios set up by the instructors to illustrate things that can (and probably will) happen when you take a group of kids into the woods. Confronting the role-play situations as real and dealing with them accordingly can be a great learning tool - both for you and the rest of the group. It is a safe time to make mistakes and learn new ways to handle challenges. At the end of each day there will be a time for processing the activities and accomplishments of that day. These sessions will provide time for reflection on decisions, leadership styles, and effectiveness.

At the end of the training you will be asked to evaluate yourself and the overall training experience through an individual meeting with your Instructors. Together you will discuss the types of trips you feel comfortable leading, along with suggestions for further improvement, and determine a Leader Profile.

EVALUATION & FEEDBACK

To insure that a strong, healthy program will be there for the youth of tomorrow, we must continually look at where we've been and where we're going. Evaluations are a major part of this process. OLT participants are evaluated after the training, and then again on other YOP trainings to determine their individual strengths and competencies. YOP uses these evaluations to determine the types of trips that leaders are capable of leading and to establish needs for future training. After the OLT, participants are eligible to receive program services for two years. After this time YOP Leaders must take a "refresher" course. YOP also asks participants to evaluate the training program overall to determine their needs are being met. We encourage your feedback and suggestions. In addition, all YOP Leaders are invited to participate in regular meetings of the YOP Boston Committee. The Committee is an excellent way for YOP staff and Leaders to share new ideas, plan, and to keep YOP aware of community developments.

OUR INSTRUCTORS

In addition to the YOP fulltime staff, YOP instructors are men and women with experience both in the outdoors and with kids. They are a remarkable group of volunteers who are so committed to sharing the outdoors with youth that they give up vacation time each year to help instruct the OLT. They bring their experiences and their success working with youth in the wilderness to the Outdoor Leadership Training to help you learn. They also bring a strong commitment to transfer their enthusiasm and expertise to you, and thus to the youth of New England.

The instructor's role is to insure the overall safety of the group, to facilitate the learning scenarios, to teach new skills, and to help process the day's activities. Remember, the training is experiential. The instructors are not there to provide all the answers or make decisions but to help you find the answers and make the decisions.

WHAT WE PROVIDE

For the OLT, YOP provides food, transportation, educational materials, tents, sleeping bags, ground pads, backpacks, stoves, cooking equipment, compasses, first aid kits, maps and guidebook, and the instructors. You are responsible for your own clothing. For the most part you shouldn't need to purchase new clothing for the OLT – please check with us if you need to borrow clothing from our equipment room. An explanation follows and an equipment list is attached. PLEASE call YOP at 617-523-0636 x337 with any questions or concerns.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Scholarships are available for agencies with limited resources. Also, we are in constant search of vans for the training. The training is free for any participant who brings a 12 or 15 passenger agency van. YOP will pay for all the gas and tolls. Call and we'll work out a deal! See the Application Form for more information about scholarships.

“It's tough. It's frustrating. It's the best thing I ever did.”

RISK MANAGEMENT

As participant safety is a high priority for all AMC trainings, procedures and policies have been developed that attempt to limit participant risk. Participants are expected to work with staff to reduce risks and make the experience successful for all involved. In case an emergency does occur, AMC instructors are trained in wilderness first aid, carry first aid kits and follow a comprehensive Emergency Action Plan. AMC utilizes radios or other communication devices, although these are not reliable in all locations and conditions. Despite such steps, participants should be aware that there are risks associated with outdoor adventure activities, including but not limited to, cooking and camp chores, adverse weather and environmental conditions, transportation in vehicles and on foot, and the remote locations of our trips. Please carefully read and sign the Participant Acknowledgement and Assumption of Risks and Release and Indemnity Agreement and call if you have any questions. Your understanding of these risks and adherence to our policies and procedures can contribute to making this experience successful.

CHOOSING THE TRAINING THAT'S RIGHT FOR YOU

Backpacking or Camping - which training should you take? Since 1968, YOP has been offering a five-day backpacking Outdoor Leadership Training (OLT). The OLT teaches youth workers the skills needed to lead youth on outdoor adventures. This classic wilderness training, which many participants have called life changing, is appropriate for all youth workers who want to take their youth on outdoor adventures, regardless of experience level. If you are open to learning and new experiences, in relatively good physical condition, and enjoy a challenge, this is your training! No experience is required and every year the training attracts youth workers with a wide variety of backgrounds; many have no previous outdoor background while some bring several years of experience. The diversity of skills and experiences adds to the learning environment and prepares youth workers to more effectively lead their own trips. The backpacking OLT offers participants an extended wilderness experience, packed with new leadership and outdoor skills, making these participants eligible to lead the most varied types of trips with their youth. The training involves one day of workshops and four days of backpacking in the White Mountains of New Hampshire.

YOP also offers a four-day, three-night camping Outdoor Leadership Training (OLT). If you are brand new to the outdoors and don't feel ready for the challenge of five days in the woods, this training may be for you! In contrast to the backpacking OLT in which participants spend each night at a different site along their hiking route, the camping OLT uses a “base-camp” model, focusing on the skills necessary for leading day hikes and camping trips. The group will spend each night at the same campground and lead hikes and activities from that base.

Participants will spend the first night in a lodge and two nights camping in tents. No experience is required – just a willingness to learn and contribute.

* When youth workers successfully complete the OLT, they become YOP Leaders and take part in an evaluation process with their instructors to determine the specific types of trips they are ready to lead. This designation also corresponds to the kind of equipment that YOP Leaders are eligible to borrow from the program. After this first assessment, YOP Leaders are encouraged to continue their outdoor leadership development by participating in additional YOP trainings to expand on the trips that are able to lead. Upon completion of the OLT, YOP Leaders retain their YOP privileges for two years. After that time a weekend "refresher" course is required to continue YOP membership and to receive resources including free equipment use and reduced rates at AMC facilities. Please let us know if you have any questions about our equipment benefits.

CLOTHING AND EQUIPMENT

OVERVIEW

In order to participate in the OLT, and to lead any outdoor trip, it is imperative to understand the importance of having the proper equipment. While YOP will provide the outdoor gear, you are responsible for most of your clothing as well as a few other items. What follows is an explanation of proper clothing and a list of what you will need. Critical clothing, noted on the equipment list, must be brought to the mandatory pre-trip meeting. We cannot take participants into the woods with improper, insufficient or unsafe gear. Check with YOP if you don't have a clothing item on the list – we have it in our equipment room!

In the backcountry, there is no place to warm up, no closet with dry clothes, and no efficient way to dry clothing that is wet. Therefore, while regulating your body temperature is helpful for comfort, it can be critical for safety. Because you need to rely predominately on your body's ability to re-warm itself, it is essential that you are able to retain or lose heat as necessary.

Clothing is a factor in helping to prevent heat loss but it is not the clothing itself that keeps you warm. It acts as insulation for your own body heat. Layers of clothing trap the warm air given off by your body. Certain fabrics are better insulators than others and some retain their insulating properties even when they are wet. Therefore, in order for clothing to be effective in the outdoors, it must keep the wearer warm and dry. It is also important that the clothing be roomy enough to allow space between layers to adequately trap the warm air. We will discuss these concepts in much greater detail at the pre-trip meeting and throughout the training.

FEET

Keeping your feet comfortable and well protected will be important on this training and any hike: always wear sturdy hiking boots. Mountain terrain can be difficult to traverse and boots with good ankle support can prevent a sprained ankle. Walking with the additional weight of a backpack also requires good support. Never wear new boots on a long trip. Break them in gradually by walking around in them for short periods of time. Then try them out on a day hike. YOP has excellent boots that you can borrow.

It is helpful to wear two pairs of socks when hiking. The sliding action between the two layers helps to prevent blisters. The first layer can be a thin sock, made out of a synthetic fiber such as polypropylene. These are frequently called "liner socks". The second sock should be a heavier wool sock.

WHY NOT COTTON?

Many people are surprised to learn that wearing cotton can become dangerous. This is because it absorbs moisture easily which increases heat loss. Even when dry, cotton is a poor insulator. When it is wet, either from sweat or the outside environment, it loses its insulating value quickly. It is slow to dry and heavy when wet. This is why we ask participants to leave behind jeans and sweatshirts – you'll just end up with heavy, wet clothing that won't keep you warm.

Although it's acceptable to hike in a cotton T-shirt, at the end of the day or when the weather changes, you'll want to start layering and insulating with non-absorbent materials. Wool, a natural fabric, and synthetics such as polypropylene and fleece, work to keep moisture away from your skin so that you don't get cold. A lowered body temperature, a condition called hypothermia, is a backpacker's nemesis and can be fatal. Therefore, non-absorbent materials are required and no cotton is allowed. The equipment list provides additional information.

"I was surprised at how quickly the weather changes in the mountains... how much I could learn in a short period of time."
- OLT participant

LAYERING

When preparing for a hike, layering is very important because it allows us to control body temperature. For example, take off a sweater when too warm or put on a rain jacket if it gets too windy. Outdoor clothing should not be tight or restrictive because there is not adequate space to trap the warm air from the body. Therefore, make the second layer slightly looser than the first layer and the third layer slightly looser than the second layer in order to get the maximum warmth. As the saying goes, dress like an onion!

Listed below is what a good layering system looks like. It should be possible to comfortably wear all layers at the same time though you will usually mix and match depending on the conditions.

- Under Layer: long underwear, top and bottom, of wool or polypropylene - lycra running pants are acceptable. This is the layer next to your skin.
- Middle Insulation Layer: on top: two layers of wool, polyester or fleece. On bottom: wool or fleece pants. This layer also includes wool or fleece hat and mittens.
- Waterproof Layer: waterproof jacket and pants (rain gear). Note that it must be waterproof not water resistant, a common problem.

EQUIPMENT LIST

An equipment list is included in this packet. You will need to bring everything on the list to the training. The items on the top portion of the equipment list must be brought to the pre-trip meeting. Rummage through your closet, ask friends, or look for sales at any of the outdoor retailers on the reverse of the list. If you're having trouble with anything, call YOP. More than likely, we'll be able to help.

Please call if you have any questions!

“The opportunity to meet so many other youth workers and observe their styles and methods is something I don’t think I could have experienced any other place.”

- OLT participant

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

1. I've never been hiking or backpacking before. Is previous experience required?

No previous outdoor experience is necessary. If you are in reasonably good shape and have the desire and enthusiasm to learn, you'll do fine. A large percentage of the people who complete the OLT don't have any previous experience. In fact, even most people with outdoor experience find it more challenging than they anticipated!

2. What will the food be like?

YOP provides all food from dinner on the first night through Sunday's lunch. The food is hearty and delicious. There will be plenty; we always have leftovers at the end. We bring tasty food and encourage youth workers to do the same on their trips because kids love food! It is something familiar that provides comfort in the unfamiliar surroundings of the woods. Please be sure to note any special dietary restrictions or special considerations on your medical form.

3. I understand that no cotton is allowed, but is cotton underwear okay?

Yes, cotton underwear is acceptable because of the minimal body space it covers and because, if necessary, you can remove it. Also, it's likely that you'll have a dry pair in your pack. If you have underwear made out of a synthetic material, bring that instead - it's just easier.

4. Is smoking allowed on the trip?

Responsible smoking is allowed, but not in buildings, shelters, vans, or tents. Expect to discuss safety concerns and other issues with your group. The OLT is not the time to try something new such as quitting smoking or a new diet.

5. Can I use my own backpack and sleeping bag?

No. For the OLT, we want you to use our equipment so that you'll learn about it. Since you'll be using YOP equipment when you take out kids, you'll need to know how to adjust or repair it should the need arise. Therefore YOP will provide your backpack, sleeping bag, and ground pad for this training.

6. I live north of Boston. Can I meet you in New Hampshire on the first day?

Sorry... The Outdoor Leadership Training starts at AMC and ends at AMC. Everyone must meet at AMC to help load up and everyone must come back to Boston to help clean up. While we understand that it may be inconvenient, we are proponents of continuity! Everyone will be tired, everyone has a long trip in (even city-dwellers often have hour-long commutes) and, logistically, additional vehicles will be problematic. We'll try to find space for you to stay over at someone's home if you'd like to spend the night close to Boston.

7. I can't make the pre-trip meeting but can attend the training. Can I still go?

No. There is a substantial amount of information that will be covered at the pre-trip meeting. Also, your basic equipment will be checked at this time (see Equipment List). It is for these reasons that the pre-trip meeting is mandatory for all wishing to take part in the Outdoor Leadership Training.

8. How many staff can attend from my agency?

A maximum of four staff per agency can attend each OLT to allow us to separate people who know each other. We find that participants learn and challenge themselves more this way! And it ensures YOP serves as many youth agencies as possible.

9. I'm afraid it's too late to register and all the spots may be filled. What can I do?

If all spots are taken, you will be put on a waiting list and taken in the order of sign-up. The pre-trip meeting is required for those on the waiting list so that in the event someone can't attend the training, you will be ready to go! And don't despair – we frequently take several people off of the waiting list each year.

Please call us at 617-523-0636 x337 if you have other questions or concerns!

EQUIPMENT LIST

Please keep in mind that mountain weather is very changeable and unpredictable. Conditions can be cold, wet, snowy, and windy all seasons of the year. It is essential to bring wool, fleece, and/or polypropylene because cotton loses its insulating value when wet. Cotton is not an acceptable substitution and you will need to leave behind jeans and sweatshirts. We cannot take people into the mountains without proper clothing. Please follow this equipment list carefully and contact YOP if you have any questions. Also consider that you will be carrying your own gear as well as a portion of the group's gear. All items on this list are required for the training except those that are indicated as optional. The items at the top of this sheet must be brought to the pre-trip meeting. YOP can loan you any of these pre-trip necessities as well.

You must bring the following items with you to the pre-trip meeting:

- 1 pair of hiking boots: properly fitted, waterproofed, and broken in
 - at least 3 pairs of wool socks

 - 1 wool or fleece hat
 - 1 pair of wool or fleece gloves or mittens
 - 2 water bottles – quart size (we recommend wide-mouth)

- 1 pair of light-weight, synthetic hiking pants (optional)
- 1 small pocket/Swiss Army knife (optional)

OPTIONS FOR PURCHASING EQUIPMENT

Listed below are some options for purchasing equipment in the Boston area. Also check local backpacking and camping stores. Salvation Army, Goodwill, and Army Navy shops frequently have good buys. Be sure to check with friends and relatives: you never know what may be lurking in the back of someone's closet! You shouldn't have to spend much, or any, money preparing for this training. AND REMEMBER: Can't find or borrow it? YOP may have it – we maintain a large equipment room with clothing for adults as well as youth. Always feel free to call if you have questions.
